

FULL DAY SEMINAR ON
IBS : THE WAY FORWARD

The property and construction industries have been plagued by increasing building material prices, inadequate skilled labour and demand from the public for improved quality of construction. Whilst the government, via the Construction Industry Development Board (CIDB), has been promoting the use of Industrialized Building Systems (IBS), the usage of IBS in the construction industry has been slow.

The use of IBS assures valuable advantages, such as reduction of unskilled workers hence eliminating the problem of shoddy workmanship, less wastage and volume of building materials as well as better quality control, to name a few. As building material prices have been on the rise in recent months, the use of IBS will help to mitigate such building material price increase and help to control cost of construction.

REHDA institute, jointly with the Construction, Technology and Labour Committee of REHDA Malaysia, is organizing a full-day Seminar to address and discuss some of the practical issues involved in IBS implementation. As stakeholders of the property & construction industry, we have a role to play in encouraging and promoting the use of IBS. Sign up today and hear from industry players and consultants share experiences and advantages of using IBS!!!
